Limric Will Play With Indianapolis.

Beduhr on Third Base at Dayton.

North Ends Lose Two Men—Local Sporting News.

Akron will be represented on the base ball field this year in a number of the leagues.

Jimmy Limric, who pitched for the North Ends last year, has received a contract from Indianapolis. He will sign it and return the document. Beduhr has signed for the season with Dayton. He will hold down third base. Frank Metz will go to Philadelphia, where he expects to anchor on bug No. 1.

The North Ends lose two of their best men and it is not probable that the club will have a team in the field this season. There are a number of other good men who played with that organization last year that would do well on a professional team.

WHERE'S RUHLIN?

John L. Sullivan, in an article in the Philadelphia North American, classifies the heavyweights in the following order: Fitzsimmons first, then Jeffries, McCoy, and Corbett in the order named. He makes no mention of Ruhlman.

INTERSTATE REORGANIZED.

At a meeting of the representatives of the cities interested in the Interstate League was reorganized Saturday in Columbus. The teams that will be included will be located at Ft. Wayne, Marion and Anderson, Ind., Toledo, Mansfield, Columbus and Dayton, O., and Wheeling, W. Va. All the cities will play Sunday ball.

ORGANIZATION.

Again a few sporting men are discussing the possibility of forming an organization for the purpose of governing professional pugilism, says an exchange. It has been suggested that this body shall protect their rights and drive fake and fakers from the business. The need for such a move cannot be questioned, but like many previous attempts here will be nothing done in the matter. It will all end in talk. Professional boxing is the only recognized branch of sport not controlled by a special body of men. The game of base ball is regulated on rules adopted by the National League, and the various jockey clubs and turf associations lay down the laws under which racing in this country is conducted. If some good hustler like Billy Brady would devote a part of his valuable time toward organizing a powerful body of sporting men to adopt rules and regulations for the elevation of boxing in America the matter might some day assume a business-like aspect, but under the present circumstances the people who suggest these things are not possessed of the faculty to make good their talk. It would take the combined efforts of a dozen or more of the most prominent sporting men of this country to form a governing body for boxers and boxing, and the combined interest of the leading promoters is absolutely necessary to bring the venture to a head.

NOTES.

At Kent Friday night the basket ball team of that place defeated the Akron team by a score of 17 to 4.

Irregular periods in maidenhood, followed after marriage by debilitating drains, and the common consequences of motherhood, inflammation, ulceration, and displaced organs, ruin the general health. These conditions are entirely removed by "Favorite Prescription," the body blossoms in a new beauty, and the mind is entirely freed from gloom and despondency. Unknown Young Man Cannot be Found.

Interesting News From South Akron Tiger.

The Goodrich 1901 souvenir picture "Kate" is the most popular piece of art that the company has ever given out, the demand being so great that their stock is completely exhausted. Little Raymond Mertz, son of Capt. John Mertz, is well again, after a siege of scarlet fever.

Chas. Widdersheim, South Akron's popular cafe man, has received from an uncle in South America, one of the finest parrots ever imported. The bird has seven different colors, talking two different languages.

Charles Bliss has removed his barber shop north on Main st., for the benefit of his rubber working patrons. John Horst, the meat dealer, will erect a two story brick building on Main st., near Jackson st.

As a certain young lady member of the Hatchet club refuses to hand back a sixty dollar engagement ring, a law suit is threatened.

Wiley Crawford, one of the most popular young men in South Akron, surprised his friends with cigars recently. He had quietly become a benedict.

Mrs. Fischer of East Exchange st., is minus several masquerade suits which she rented to some unknown young men, who never came back.

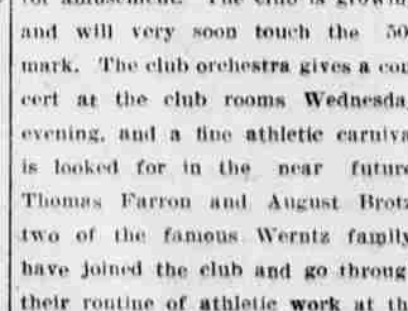

Mr. Edwin Boynton of Salamanca, N. Y., visited friends in South Akron, Wednesday and Thursday. Howard Shreck, of Columbus, visited his cousin, Martin Eby, of S. High st., Wednesday.

One of the cleverest magicians in this locality and one who will undoubtedly be heard of in the near future, is Geo. Edling, of Bowery st. The young man gave an exhibition at the S. E. A. Club rooms recently, doing several of Kellar's feats.

The success of the Star Athletic club is assured. The boys have fitted up a very fine club house near the street car burns and the neatness of their rooms is causing much favorable comment.

A fine new pool table was placed in the South End club rooms Thursday. A new piano, costing $400, recently ordered from O. G. Brownell, is also expected in a few days. With over $300 worth of gymnasium apparatus, the bowling alleys, pool table, piano and a hand ball court, recently constructed, there is quite an outlay for amusement. The club is growing and will very soon touch the 500 mark. The club orchestra gives a concert at the club rooms Wednesday evening, and a fine athletic carnival is looked for in the near future. Thomas Farron and August Broz, two of the famous Wernitz family, have joined the club and go through their routine of athletic work at the rooms each afternoon. Arrangements are now being made to secure the wrestling match between Frank Davey, of Wheeling, and Billy Coleman, of Barberton, and if completed, the go will come off at the club house.

Unhappy Appreciation of Barn Stormers

Are Trying to Reach Home Again.

Black Diamond Express Wrecked at Sycamore.

There are several hundred Akron people who have a very vivid recollection of an extremely lurid and thrilling drama known as the "Black Diamond Express" which was presented at the Grand opera house a month ago.

The bright and particular feature of the play was the railroad collision between two 3x5 trains. It was advertised as being the most realistic thing of the kind ever put before the people. They failed to appreciate the fact. The company got as far as Sycamore where it threw up the sponge. Commenting on its knockout, the New York Telegraph says:

Some time before the Rapid Transit Tunnel is completed, all of the members of the late "The Black Diamond Express" organization will have reached Broadway. A few of the thespians arrived in the city yesterday. Others are reported at various spots in the far west.

The company was organized about four months ago by George Devere, a former manager of a theater in Paterson, N. J., and Alexander Victor, who heretofore has sought prominence by doing feats of legerdemain in the vaudeville houses. Bernard Kling was responsible for the manuscript.

The piece, as its title might indicate, purported early in the season to be a melodrama in which the heroine is saved from a frightful railroad accident by the sudden arrival of the hero.

However, the first few stands visited did not seem to care for melodrama, and Ed Crissey, the stage manager, brilliantly suggested it be rewritten into a farce comedy. The author consented upon the condition that his great express train scene be retained.

With this combination of a semi-melodrama and quasi farce comedy, the organization journeyed through the smaller towns of the far west. Little by little the funds of the management displayed a shrinking, reluctant air, and by the time the western part of Ohio was reached there was not enough money in the general treasury to procure laundry for the very much abused heroine.

After a time Alice Ainscoe, the sourette, and Arthur A. Hill, the tramp comedian, suggested that a co-operative organization be started. In this manner the three purveyors of drama reached Sycamore, O.

The gross receipts that night amounted to $6, and the members of the company packed what few trunks they possessed and rushed to a telegraph station.

In some instances funds were secured, in others there was a most distressing wait. Miss Ainscoe and Hill were the first to reach Broadway and tell their friends how it all happened. Others have been sighted near Erie, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rogers seem to have wandered off the main route, for the last heard of them they were nearing Chicago, Ill.

Victor will return to the sleight of hand business, and Devere promises to forswear all road combinations in the future.

A GROWING PAPER.

graph's popularity is enhanced by special features not to be found in any other newspaper, and by a supplement printed in colors on fine book paper, the illustrations of which are equal to the best magazines."

Such is the opinion of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, and of every right thinking person, capable of discerning the merits of a publication, who has ever subscribed to the Telegraph. Fulsome commendation is all right in its way and perfectly justifiable in cases of Magazines, successful books and high literary efforts but when a contemporary will, of its own accord, give such a flattering testimonial to a rival sheet, than that paper, both in point of its literature and in the quality of the news it presents, must be above the ordinary daily journal.

The Morning and Sunday Telegraph will be sent to any one desiring a specimen copy, by addressing The Morning Telegraph, 140 West Forty-second st., New York city. Newsdealers, if they wish a suitable commodity, should include the Telegraph in their stock of trade, and if the paper is given a good display, and brought to the attention of their patrons, they will find the investment a profitable one.

From the Vindicator, Rochester, N. Y. The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts affected and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain. A Card From Evangelist Crispin.

Editor Democrat:
The statement, unqualified, that I have resigned from the Evangelistic work of this district, is misleading. I tendered my resignation as Evangelist for this district only to take place when my successor is on the ground ready to be inducted into office. As our state convention is soon to meet in

Akron there is special need of work being done between this and the convention. I state this that Prohibitionists may understand that the work will continue as usual until further notice. Respectfully,

W. F. CRISPIN.
